

NPR : Entity Diagram

This diagram is a basic entity diagram of how NPR manages data for story, some related resources and the list to which the stories are assigned. This is a conceptual model that represents how these entities relate to each other and does not include all resource or list entities or attributes in the system.
(Produced by Daniel Jacobson)